2008 Annual Meeting

March 2-4, 2008
Marriott Resort at Grande Dunes
Myrtle Beach, South Carolina

The realities of today's battlefield demands a revolutionary approach to healthcare...

FROM FOX-HOLE TO SURGERY

The overarching goal of North American Rescue Products is to empower the individual Warfighter as well as the Tactical Healthcare Professional in the field with an equipment strategy specifically designed to significantly decrease preventable combat death at every level of medical care... from the frontline of the conflict to the front door of the most advanced medical facility.

Every product we develop has a critical mission... an innovative solution to the unique medical challenges that arise during care under fire. Each is an invaluable tool in the skilled hands of those dedicated to placing themselves in the line of fire to save the lives of others.

NCO Healthcare Services

A healthier approach to Accounts Receivable Management

NCO Eligibility Patient Advocacy Liaison Services (EPALS) identify and obtain payment through government assistance programs for eligible inpatient and outpatient accounts. With our years of experience and community sensitive culture, we implement programs for third-party eligibility, out-of-state Medicaid eligibility and billing, HMO member retention, and third-party liability. To accelerate cash flow and enhance patient service, Patient Advocacy Liaison Services are powered by NCO's innovative receivables management platform, NCO ACCESS™.

We Understand. We Care. We Deliver.

Speakers

Dr. Paul F. Pasquina is a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Army Medical Corps. He is chief of the Integrated Department of Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation at Walter Reed Army Medical Center and the National Naval Medical Center.

He also is medical director of the Amputee Program and recently assumed responsibilities as co-director of the TBI Program at Walter Reed.

Dr. Pasquina is a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, NY, and the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences. He is board certified in physical medicine and rehabilitation, electrodiagnostic medicine and pain medicine. He completed a fellowship in sports medicine and is interested in all aspects of musculoskeletal medicine, especially if it applies to individuals with disabilities.

He is an elected Fellow in the American Institute for Medical Biomedical Engineering as well as a Secretarial appointee on the Department of Veterans Affairs Advisory Committee for Prosthetics and Special Disabilities Programs.

Pasquina

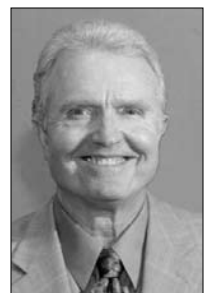

Dr. Mike Collins is a management development consultant who specializes in motivational and humorous presentations.

His career includes high school and college coaching, university professor in Texas, Alabama and South Carolina, and hospital manager, as well as running his consulting firm.

Dr. Collins earned bachelor of science and master's degrees from Baylor University and a doctorate in education from the University of Southern Mississippi. He completed a two-year program in management development at the Piedmont Management Institute in Greenville.

In January 2003, he was involved in an automobile accident, which left him paralyzed from the neck down. He has progressed to walking 30 feet using a support walker.

He currently works part-time as an instructor at Greenville Technical College and a trainer at Caterpillar. He receives physical and occupational therapy four days a week and continues to manage his speaking and training business.

Collins

Carl Suter has been chief executive officer of the Council of State Administrators of Vocational Rehabilitation since November 2001.

Prior to joining CSAVR, he was director of the Illinois Office of Rehabilitation Services for five years. He oversaw a budget of nearly $500 million that included programs for vocational rehabilitation, a $300 million in-home care program for persons with disabilities, three schools for children with disabilities, and Disability Adjudicative Services for determining SSI and SSDI benefits.

Suter

He also has served as the executive director of the Illinois Council on Developmental Disabilities and associate director of the Illinois Association of Rehabilitation Facilities.

Dr. Neal D. Thigpen has been a member of the Francis Marion University faculty in Florence since 1971. A native of Baltimore, MD, he received his B.A. in history at the University of Maryland, where he also earned an M.A. and Ph.D. in American Government and Politics.

He served as chairman of the Political Science Department at Francis Marion from 1972 to 1996 and again from 2002 to 2004. He is the author of many articles and monographs on American politics and a member of numerous academic honor societies and professional political science associations.

Thigpen

Francis Marion University established the "Neal D. Thigpen Chair in Public Affairs" in Dr. Thigpen's honor in 2002.

Paul Barnes has served as regional commissioner for the Social Security Administration's eight-state Atlanta Region since July 2002.

He began his career as a claims representative in Columbia, Tenn., in 1968. The son of "sharecroppers," he worked his way through college and graduated magna cum laude from Lane College in 1968. He also earned a master's degree in Public Administration from the University of Southern California and is a graduate of Harvard University's Senior Managers in Government Program.

Barnes

For more than a decade, Dr. Muriel O'Tuel has been motivating audiences and inspiring listeners to leave positive footprints on the hearts of others.

She earned her B.A. in English from St. Andrews Presbyterian College in North Carolina; a master's in counseling from the University of Alabama; and a Ph.D. in counselor education and psychology from the University of South Carolina.

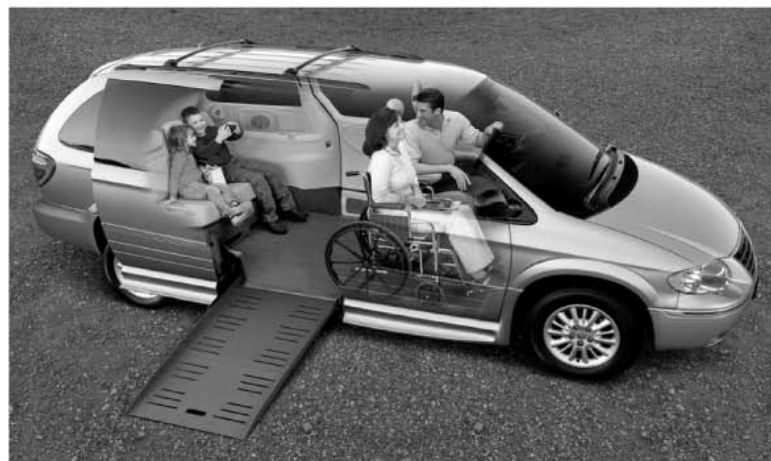

She served as director of guidance in the Columbia schools and director of psychological services and staff development in the Summerville schools, as well as assistant to the superintendent of schools in Myrtle Beach.
